

In-Ride Self-Talk Framework

Week 10 -- Replace the Default | The Roadman Method

Your internal monologue during hard effort determines how long you last.

Default Self-Talk	Replacement	Why
'I can't hold this'	'I'm choosing to hold this for 60 more seconds'	Reframes as choice, not limit
'My legs are done'	'My legs are working -- this is what hard feels like'	Normalises effort
'Everyone is faster'	'I'm riding my race, my pace, my plan'	Removes comparison
'I should sit up'	'Stay in it for one more minute'	Shrinks time horizon
'This is pointless'	'This effort is making me better'	Connects pain to gain

My chosen phrase this week

When I used it and how it felt
